The enrollment of students is the greatest this year of any previous year under the present management. The boarding department is filled almost to capacity, and more students are coming in. All three of our schools have had fine openings. The citizens of Millersburg are proud of these schools, and justly so, and will co-operate with them in every way to make them a success. The pastors of the churches welcomed the students and invited them to attend their services.

BOURBON COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

—Miss Caudill, representing the Junior Red Cross Society, paid the school a visit Wednesday.

Next Wednesday Chapel exercises will be in charge of a special speaker furnished by State University, who will speak in the interest of the Junior Agricultural Club. The public is cordially invited to attend these weekly exercises, which are being held this year in the gymnasium, on account of the crowded condition of the Chapel.

—The catalogs of the School Fair will be ready for distribution in a few days.

Wednesday Chapel exercises were conducted by Rev. Price Smith, pastor of the Methodist church. Bro. Smith had words of friendly greeting for the girls and boys, also words of inspiration for all those present. We welcome him to our midst, and hope his pleasant face will be often seen at our Chapel meetings. The following visitors were present on this occasion: Messdames Current Cunningham, Henry Patterson, Pearl Hill, Clara Dabney, Robert Bell, W. F. Saunders, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Caudell, Messrs. Ashby Leer, David Cassity, M. E. Pruitt and Rev. Price Smith.

KENTUCKY STANDS FIFTH IN BETTER STOCK DRIVE

Kentucky is continuing to make steady progress in the "Better Sires-Better Stock" campaign being conducted throughout the country by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the various State Agricultural colleges, according to a progress report which has just been received by T. R. Bryant, assistant director of extension work at the College of Agriculture. The State now stands fifth among all those in the Union in the number of farmers who have been enrolled in the drive against scrub breeding animals, being preceded by Ohio, Virginia, Nebraska and Washington.

Since the beginning of the campaign, at which time Kentucky stood at the bottom of the list of States in the number of farmers who had agreed to use nothing but purebred sires in all their breeding work, the State has forged rapidly to the front through the work carried on by county agricultural agents and specialists from the college, Mr. Bryant said. At the present time a total of 401 Kentucky farmers have joined the campaign, these farmers being owners of a total of 10,540 purebred animals and 54,292 chickens. Ohio, which heads the list, has a total of 1,970 farmers enrolled in the movement.

Work being carried on by county agricultural agents and the college extension division at the present time promises to advance the standing of the State in the drive, Mr. Bryant said. The work is being launched in practically all parts of the State, while many farmers are showing an increased interest in the value of better breeding animals, he said.

At the present time Oldham county is playing an important part in the progress which is being made by the State. County Agent Gordon B. Nance has reported that 37 additional farmers in that county recently applied for enrollment in the campaign by agreeing to use nothing but purebred sires in all their breeding work. This brings the total enrollment of farmers in that county up to 103. The progress report which has just been received here shows that only 13 counties in the United States have a greater enrollment than 103 farmers at the present time.

FIRST WALL PAPER IN AMERICA

Wall papers did not begin to come into this country until the second quarter of the Eighteenth Century, according to Phyllis Ackerman, in Arts and Decoration. Even then they were specially ordered by the individual householders from their dealers in London and Paris, rather than carried from the general retail trade. Thomas Hancock, for instance, ordered, in 1737, a specially made paper from his stationer, Thos. Rowe, of London, and in his letter giving the order speaks of another paper similarly imported by a friend of his, three or four years earlier. By 1745, however, wall paper was in retail stock here, Charles Hargrave, of Philadelphia, advertising it in that year. But certainly it was not in general use until 1750. By that time it had become enormously popular and a host of merchants in all the lower towns were advertising new importations with the arrival of every ship.

There would probably be a better class of children if there were not so many careless and indigent parents.

Kicking is a splendid art, but a very poor habit.

DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

FREDERICKSON

—The body of James P. Frederickson, aged fifty-one, who died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Patrick McGovern, in Lexington, Wednesday will be brought to Paris this morning for interment at eleven o'clock in the Paris Catholic Cemetery, following services held at St. Paul's Catholic church, in Lexington, at nine o'clock. The pall-bearers will be John J. Galvin, H. E. McGovern, R. J. McQuirk, J. P. Sullivan and E. A. Welch.

Besides his sester, Mrs. Patrick McGovern, with whom he made his home, in Lexington, Mr. Frederickson is survived by one brother, D. M. Frederickson, of near Paris.

MATTOX

—Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Mattox, aged sixty-seven, died at her home on Winchester street, in this city, Tuesday night, following a protracted illness from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Mattox was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Snapp, of Nicholas county, and had been a resident of Bourbon county for the past twenty years. Her mother was formerly Miss Mann, daughter of John Mann, pioneer resident of Nicholas county, and for many years a miller in Carlisle. She was a first cousin of Charles P. Mann, of the Paris Realty Co., and related to Rev. Edward G. B. Mann, of Lexington.

Mrs. Mattox is survived by her husband, R. H. Mattox, and five daughters, Mrs. C. R. Alexander, Mrs. S. T. Chipley, Mrs. James Grinnell, Jr., Mrs. Octavia Delaney, and Miss Ina Mattox, all of Paris; one brother, Miner Snapp, of Blue Lick Springs, Nicholas county.

The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. O. B. Crockett, pastor of the Paris Methodist church. The pall-bearers were: Charles P. Mann, John Martin, Ray Ingels, Grant Galloway, A. B. Martin and Robt. Fuller.

MAHANEY

—James Fennell Mahaney, aged thirty-three, a former resident of Paris died suddenly in Mt. Sterling late Monday afternoon, just after getting out of a barber chair. Mr. Mahaney had been in apparent good health and had been about his business through the day. His death was due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Mahaney was a son of Daniel and Ellen Mahaney, of Paris. He was for several years employed on construction work for the city of Paris, and during the recent reconstruction work done here by the Henry Bickel Co., on the Paris streets, was in charge of the setam rollers. Later he was a clerk at the Bone Dry Cafe, then operated by Ed Doyle. When Mr. Doyle sold out his interest and opened up a soft drink stand in Mt. Sterling, Mr. Mahaney accompanied him as clerk.

Mr. Mahaney is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mahaney, one brother, Daniel Mahaney, Jr., of Paris; three sisters, Mrs. McCarthy, of Paris; Mrs. Marks, of Covington; Mrs. Rourke, of Cincinnati.

The body was brought to Paris and taken to the Mahaney home on Vine street. The funeral was held at the Church of The Annunciation, at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, with services conducted by the pastor, Rev. Father William O'Hare. The interment followed on the family lot in the Paris Catholic Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Mike Shannon, John Brophy, Jr., Wm. R. Minogue, Edward Doyle, Cornelius Doyle and Jos. Minogue.

SLAVIN

—The funeral of Miss Katie Slavin, professional nurse, who died at St. Joseph's Hospital, in Lexington, Monday night, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis sustained in Paris several days previous was held at St. Paul's church, in Lexington, Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. The pall-bearers were: James Lyons, Thos. Slavin, Wm. Klair, Jos. Luigart and John Mooney. The interment took place in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, in Lexington.

Miss Slavin had for the past five years been employed as nurse for Joseph Clay, of Paris. She was stricken at the home of Miss Letitia Clay, on Pleasant street. Shortly after retiring for the night, Miss Slavin attempted to rise from her bed and fell to the floor. The noise attracted the attention of members of the household, who hastened to her assistance. She was found in an unconscious condition, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she lingered for several days without regaining consciousness.

Miss Slavin was left an orphan at an early period in life, and had made her home in Lexington with the family of Hon. William Klair, being a cousin of Mrs. Klair. She was highly regarded for her splendid qualifications as a nurse, and for her pleasing personality.

It would be a fine world if good men put as much into goodness as mean men seem to put into meanness.

FEWER POISONOUS SNAKES

Recently on a road near Louisville, a motorist was bitten on the hand by a rattlesnake while attempting to place the captured reptile in a tin can. A few years ago in Louisville a man died from the effects of being bitten by a rattlesnake that was kept on exhibition in a saloon.

There have been comparatively few fatalities from the bites of venomous snakes in Kentucky, where these varieties include, besides the rattlesnake, the copperhead and the spreading viper. First aid usually has been effective and in the old days liberal potations of raw whisky were regarded as a specific for snake bites. Owing to the clearing of the timber the rattlesnake now is confined to a much reduced area and with the exception of the copperhead and the viper and a few others the average person has little to fear from poisonous snakes in this State. Hogs have been found a valuable ally in clearing a section of snakes and even the most poisonous kinds are futile against the porker.

Drainage and reclamation of the swamp lands also have done much to rid the State of poisonous reptiles. Since the advent of the "dry" regime and the scarcity of the recognized old-time specific for snake bites it may be that people will be more careful in encouraging the poisonous reptiles.

Everybody has heard of the old Kentuckian who went to town and after loading to the guards with booze drove home, only to encounter a big rattlesnake coiled at the gate ready to spring. After fixing his eyes on the rattler for a time, he observed: "Strike, d—n you; I'm just as full of 'pizen' as you are."

When it comes to buying clothes, the fat man finds that it is expensive to be expansive.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned; possibly to soften the blow of the conflagration by calling attention to a greater horror.

Birds do not practice polygamy; their constant association with men having apparently no bad influence upon them.

There is no gift so greatly to be prized as the ability to be just to others regardless of their attitude toward us.
